Grower of Choice Varieties

Descriptive price list of
GLADIOLUS

1923

Goshen, Indiana

1939

We have been growing Gladiolus for sixteen years and have learned, from every angle, the best methods for producing fine bulbs and the varieties in which the public is most interested. Growing Gladiolus is our major occupation, not a side line, therefore our biggest gain comes from pleasing our customers. We have letters from satisfied buyers in all parts of the United States but cannot print them as space does not permit. A satisfied customer means repeat orders and that means honesty and good quality.

This list offers you sturdy varieties in all sizes which will take care of the most conservative buyer. Our descriptions are short, but we believe long enough to give you a good idea of color and blooming habits. Many people like to buy several sizes in order to have blooms throughout the entire season, from the earliest date to the latest with one planting.

In our price list we extend an invitation to you to visit our enterprise at any time. Many have done this and all ask the same questions concerning the growing and care of Gladiolus. Many requests come to us through the mail for this knowledge so we have prepared a folder on our culture of Gladiolus which we will mail free with each order shipped from our farm. These methods can be applied by the home gardener to his own particular problems.

This year we are giving you every opportunity to secure Gladiolus of the finest quality at the lowest possible cost. We are not selling BAR-GAINS, we are selling QUALITY. All precautions are taken to sell you bulbs first class in every respect, true to name and graded up to size.

In the summer our fields are State Inspected as are the storages where the bulbs are stored. We are constantly guarding against the dangers that lie in wait for a Gladiolus bulb.
